SUMMER CHURCH SCHOOL

Hey Mom: Kids bored already with nothing to do? Send them over to Michelson Methodist Church Wednesday mornings 9:30 till 11:30 all summer. In place of a Bible School and Sunday school, this year we will be holding classes each Wednesday morning. Kids starting Kindergarten through the 8th grade are welcome. Lessons, singing, games, refreshments, and just being with other kids your age are some of the activities planned and supervised by qualified parents and teachers. Mark next Wednesday on your calendar. If you need a ride call 348-3691, Marilyn Pick for transportation.

Jack Pine's Stump

I don't know don't what, but don't. Maybe it's don't leave the starting gate, but I can't say that, because all the merchants in our little town would ostracize me. Maybe it's just don't throw your beer cans or film packaging in my front yard, but if I said that either the beer and film industries would object, or else I would sound like I didn't want you to have a good time, and I am just not that type of a fellow.

Several months ago someone handed me a full page editorial from a magazine which I very carefully filed for future reference. Unfortunately, the name of the publication isn't on either side of the page. Laws being what they are on written material, I might get in trouble by printing it, but I think I just might risk it. It could have come from Colorado, the Northeastern states or even California. Anyway, it's by a man named J. Ed Sharpe and applies to most any town which caters to the resort trade. While I don't agree with all of it, the general idea is a good one. It is entitled "A Gentle Request" and goes like this:

"Vacation time is under way in our nation again, and before the summer is over I would like to make a gentle request of everybody who will be in the seasonal race again this year. I don't want to sound unappreciative and, might the gods be my witness, I am not a habitual spoilsport or a leftwing opponent of the 'See-America-First' campaign. I just happen to live in a resort town where five million tourists wear their Bermuda shorts and carry their black cameras by my front door each summer. My request is Don't.

The truth of the matter is that I am proud that you want to see the beautiful mountains and clear streams around my place, but it seems sort of peculiar that your appreciation can be expressed by leaving such inappropriate offerings of gratitude floating down our sacred streams. And for the life of me I don't want to stop any little fellow from throwing rocks, but our poor trout haven't yet got rested up from last year's dogging.

And my don't doesn't apply to your noble interest in our cultural history. It really isn't any of my concern that every old coffee grinder and milk can in our county go bouncing out on the back of your car, but it just doesn't seem quite right that you don't always talk to the owner about adding his old no-good worthless nothings to your collection of historical and cultural artifacts.

And it's not that we aren't glad to see you. We would just like for you to say howdy back sometime, like as if maybe you heard us when we spoke, or maybe just be a little more courteous when you're in line at the grocery store that didn't have any line until you all started coming in again. Now don't let me make you mad, but I might as well have my say. Those little tents of yours are mighty nice for keeping a fellow dry while he enjoys being away from the crowded city and in the great outdoors. But it seems mighty strange to me that anyone would want to swap a city of nice warm houses for an even more crowded city of tents when the snoring and the fussing can be heard a lot better in the latter. Course, I can see your point and I try to understand, but be kind to our wildlife and don't holler at the kids too loud. Seems like what I want to request of you can't hardly be said without my sounding like a negativist, but maybe what I'm really trying to say is this: Don't be less of an American when you are away from home than you are in your own back yard. Thanks.

It's easy to become enamored of the "woods and templed hills" . . . to fall in love with the "rocks and rills" . . . to hear freedom ringing "from every mountain-side."

But look at the boy in our picture. See him not only silhouetted against a valley in the Great Smokies . . . see him in a Kansas cornfield . . . on a Brooklyn street.

The day has long passed when America could believe that her mountains and prairies were fitting evidence of her greatness.

Even the pride of the historic Pilgrims has little impact on this atomic age.

MEN — they make a nation great!

And this boy is one of them . . . young . . . eager . . . ready for destiny.

He's one of the free—yes! But one of the NOBLE free?

That depends — on the truths we teach him . . . on the Faith we share with him . . . on the part that God, the Author of Liberty, is to have in his life.

The Purpose of Independence

As Independence Day 1971 approaches, it is well to recall that Fourth of July means more than shooting off a few fireworks. It marks the point nearly two centuries ago when the United States began to shape its destiny as an independent nation.

This year, as we commemorate independence, many are asking whether we are worthy of the freedom we have enjoyed all these years, thanks to the fortitude and purposefulness of our forefathers. To them, independence meant building a strong nation where individual freedom, under law, the right of property and other basic liberties, could thrive and grow. They applied their independence to these purposes with fruitful results. If the nation is now drifting and divided, there can be but one reason. The premises upon which independence was won have been weakened. Some are ashamed of the strength of our nation. Others question its laws, its economic system and the institutions under which it has become strong. They use the independence granted to them nearly 200 years ago to turn the nation away from the principles on which it was founded and upon which it depends for its continued existence.

Those who are grateful for the opportunities and freedom this country has given them should stand up and be counted on Independence Day this year.

HANCOCK, N. Y., HERALD: "Through the years we have been publishing this newspaper we have given many young (and some not so young) people a 'break' by withholding their names from publication after they became involved with the law which resulted in police action. We have maintained that we do not relish printing news items of people being arrested as we are not running a 'police gazette'. To that end, we have respected requests on several occasions and will continue to do so providing the person involved makes the request with one exception. We WILL NOT withhold the names of people who are picked up and found guilty of using any type of narcotic illegally."

Interest Revives In Grandfather Clocks

Fairhope, Ala.—Emperor Clock Company of Fairhope, Ala. has succeeded in generating a revival of interest in the traditional grandfather clock. The renaissance began just two years ago.

"General acceptance of grandfather clock ownership has been nationwide," reports George Fowler, President. "Sales have been so good that it pushes production to meet the demand. It appears that the traditional grandfather clocks are a national status symbol," Fowler added.

"Grandfather clocks are among the most treasured furniture pieces handed down as heirlooms from generation to generation. They grow in value and survive the changes of time," Fowler said. "The Emperor Clock Company enhances the beauty and charm of cherished grandfather clocks by using modern manufacturing methods. The heretofore high cost of quality grandfather clocks is thus reduced to a popular price range," Fowler stated.

Wood, cut from solid mahogany and walnut, under the skill of southern furniture craftsmen, and movements, imported from West Germany, give Emperor Grandfather Clocks a warmth, rich beauty and lasting dependability as a time-keeping instrument.

Each clock features the well-known Westminster Chimes. Other models offer a choice of the Westminster, Whittington or St. Michael Chimes.

Emperor Clock Company not only sells assembled, unfinished cases without movements, and completely finished clocks with movements, but also "do-it-yourself" kits for building your own grandfather clock. Emperor Clock Company in addition, offers detailed blueprint plans of each model at a nominal cost.

Children's Crusade At Assembly of God

A special children's crusade "Knights for Jesus" will begin at the Grayling Assembly of God Church, 911 Elm Street, on July 5, with Evangelists Gene and Esther Fiddler, Pastor Clifford Molnar announced today. The crusade will continue through July 9, with services each night at 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. for children 4 through 16.

Rev. Fiddler is originally from the state of Washington. His wife Esther is from New York. Their lives were brought together at Central Bible College in Springfield, Mo. Their experience includes six years of pastoring a church and better than five years of extensive travel as evangelists throughout the United States.

The children's crusade "Knights for Jesus" will include contests, songs, memory verses, and stories given with stereo sound effects. The theme "Knights for Jesus" will be portrayed throughout the program, with the use of special decorations and songs. The puppet Mortimer and several of his friends will provide added attraction.

Pastor Molnar extends a warm welcome to all children to come and enjoy this crusade.

New Name Adopted

"If it Fitz . . ."

Terry sells grand noise

By Jim Fitzgerald

I cannot tell a lie. The most god-awful noise I ever heard is created on purpose by the Grand Funk Railroad. That's the rock group managed by Terry Knight, the only millionaire who has ever been inside my humble home.

Terry sends me all the Grand Funk albums. I probably shouldn't knock them. Terry recently bought new uniforms for the school band in his old hometown. Some day he may want to do something similarly nice for the faithful, ink-stained old editor of his hometown newspaper. I could use a pair of pants without those lousy ink stains, for instance. To heck with tradition. So it's dumb for me to say the Grand Funk sounds like the switchman fell asleep and there was a head-on crash with 15 miles of track ripped up and no survivors.

But I can't help it. And it's not that I'm strictly an old fogey, wed forever to Glen Miller and Tuxedo Junction. I've been a Beatle fan from the first and I've been excited by several of those weirdly named groups, such as Blood, Sweat and Tears. With Neil Diamond around, who cares if Frank Sinatra hangs it up for good?

But the Grand Funkers do nothing for me except make my ears cringe.

I offer this opinion not as a jealous rap at Terry. I'm proud of his success. When the Wall Street Journal, on the front page, called Terry a millionaire, I was happy for him. In fact, I immediately sent him a letter of congratulations (enclosing a photo of my ink-stained pants).

Actually, it appears that no one likes Grand Funk — except the kids who overflow their concerts and buy their records by the millions. Disc jockeys never play Grand Funk. They're never on TV. Music critics agree unanimously that their music is "hideous" and "atrocious." Even Terry admits his 3 Funkers are not overloaded with talent.

Which naturally brings up the fascinating question: If they're so lousy, why are they so popular? The New York Times critic had a smart-aleck answer: "Mussolini was popular too."

But the real answer is much more interesting. The Funkers are rich because they are twice as loud and because Terry Knight is twice as shrewd.

Most groups use 2,000 watt amplifiers. Grand Funk uses 4,000 watts. They are so loud and frenzied you can't understand most of the words. But you sure as heck can't ignore them, any more than you could ignore World War 3 going on inside your skull.

Knight says he sells Grand Funk "like toothpaste." He knows it pays to advertise. More important, he "orchestrates" his 3 Funkers right down to the last lingering yowl. All that jumping and yipping and moaning and grimacing doesn't just happen naturally. Terry knows that's what the kids want and he makes certain they get it. Grand Funk rehearsals must be like practicing to have a tooth pulled.

His ex-fans hung Mussolini. Certainly, such a thing could never happen to Grand Funk. But if it did, Terry could always sell tickets and position his amplifiers strategically so as to pick up the last noises made by his boys.

It would probably sound like just another Grand Funk concert.

Consumers Want to Know

by MARGARET SPADER
Director of Consumer Affairs
National Association of Manufacturers

How is light bulb life determined?

The filament inside the bulb will last just so long then it burns out. "Average laboratory life" as listed on the bulb sleeve means the number of hours of use you may expect to get from the bulb before it burns out. The figure will be an average, based on certain approved laboratory tests.

Some light bulbs are labeled "longer life." What does that mean?

These bulbs are meant to last longer than "standard" bulbs. There's really no definition for the term "long life" but longer life means less light for bulbs with the same wattage. Here's why: A bulb has just so much light life in it and no more. That's because the filament eventually burns out after a certain amount of use. "Long life" filaments are heavier than those for standard bulbs so they last longer. But, by their nature, they won't give as much light.

Are any bulbs available that will give both brightness and long life?

If you want a "long life" bulb that will give you the brightness of a "normal" 75-watt bulb, try a "long life" bulb of the next highest wattage. In this example, a 100 watt bulb. You'll get at least the output lumens of a "standard" 75-watt bulb, and long life, too.

Are three-way bulbs "long life" bulbs?

Three-way bulbs contain two filaments: one for low brightness and one for medium brightness. The two combined produce high brightness. Three-way bulbs will be labeled the same way as regular bulbs: lumens, watts and hours of life. For the bulb's life, however, the rating will be given for only one of the two filaments; the one shown by the manufacturer's laboratory tests to be the first to burn out, based on average use.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

LEARNING

Life is a constant process of learning. We learn to crawl, then to walk. As we grow older, we learn to swim, to ride a bicycle, even fly an airplane.

Through training and experience we learn (or fail to learn) how to live in peace and harmony with our fellow man. If we are taught to love and honor, then we have respect for others, for their right to be "different" in some way.

Sometimes our proper education in successful living suffers because we are surrounded by an atmosphere of ignorance and prejudice. To the impressionable years of our youth we tend to imitate the attitude of our elders, unthinkingly, without question. As we grow older, we form attitudes of our own. We learn for ourselves what life is like; what people are like; and we never cease to learn, so long as we live.

Thought for Food

To make bread, vegetables and many other foods taste better, use butter. Along with its distinctive flavor, butter is one of the finest sources of essential vitamin A in the diet.

Olives can add a note of distinction to any meal. Serve them alone, or in salads, omelets, sandwiches, sauces or casseroles.

Line individual ramekin or casserole with a thin slice boiled ham; add 2 tablespoons light cream. Carefully slip 2 eggs into each ramekin; sprinkle with a dash of salt and pepper, and 1 tablespoon grated Cheddar or Parmesan cheese. Cover with foil. Bake at 325 degrees F. 20 to 25 minutes.

For a summer treat, try raspberry milk shake. In blender combine 1 cup skim milk and ½ cup raspberry sherbet. Blend 2 minutes. Sprinkle with nutmeg, if desired. Makes 1 serving.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident - that all men... are entitled to be independent and free of poverty, of wars, of any discrimination of race, sex, religion... to live in a decent environment... to live in decent housing... to live under revitalized, purposeful, meaningful systems of local state and national governments... to live in a country where freedom and justice are the beginning and the end.

Terms for Judges?

By Richard L. Millman

Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia has come up with a rather interesting if somewhat perplexing idea.

He has suggested that the federal constitution be amended so that federal judges would lose their present lifetime tenure; instead, their appointments would have to be reconfirmed by the United States Senate every eight years.

As I understand it, under the Byrd plan, if a majority of Senators would vote to reconfirm, then the judge would have another eight years on the bench; if a majority voted against reconfirmation, then the judge would be retired at full pay and the President would offer a replacement.

Admittedly, I'm not too clear on the details of Sen. Byrd's proposal; all I know is what I read in a recent nationally syndicated column about it.

But as noted above, it is an interesting idea. Apparently Sen. Byrd is looking for some further check on the independence of the federal judiciary. Right now, there's not much of a check on federal judges. Once they're in office, they're in for good. About the only escape hatches available are impeachment—which isn't very frequent or practical, in real life—or death, which is inevitable, or retirement, which isn't frequent, either.

Once a judge is on the bench at a good salary, why should he leave just because he's getting old? Very few do; most are carried out by eight pallbearers.

And indeed, the Byrd plan would introduce a very significant check on the judiciary. The United States Senate would be that check; the judge would have to win approval of at least 51 senators to stay on the job.

I would guess there would be a few judges—not many, probably, but one here or there—who would get the senatorial bounce. Can you imagine? For example, the battle royal that would have developed if Justice William O. Douglas came up for renomination in the past year or so?

Coming up before the senate for reconsideration certainly would change the concept of the unfettered judiciary which is a basic part of the constitutional approach to the federal court system.

Life tenure for judges, in the main, is probably destrable. To bring them back before a sitting body for reconfirmation would inevitably instill a political atmosphere in the judiciary which is now, by and large, lacking.

And an appointing authority never really knows what he's getting, either. For example, I'll wager that President Eisenhower didn't bargain for the full range of effects the country received from the appointment of Chief Justice Earl Warren. And Justice Byron (Whizzer) White, appointed by President Kennedy, has been considered a disappointment by some of the social activists of the Kennedy clan.

And behind the cloak of life tenure, judges can change. There's the son of former Republican congressional stalwart, Charles Halleck of Indiana, who carried a like-father - like-son conservative record onto the bench, then recently received a lot of publicity for his district federal post in Washington with his more modernistic approaches to behavior and justice, including long hair and the whole bit.

In my opinion, periodic review by the voters has not worked exceedingly well for state and local judges in Michigan, even though the elections are non-partisan. The state supreme court situation is especially bad, where a justice has to go before a partisan convention for nomination before running as a non-partisan. The new constitution, providing for nomination by affidavit for incumbent judges, is some help, but not much.

Maybe life tenure would be better for state judges. Maybe appointment would be better than election. Maybe Sen. Byrd is barking up the wrong tree.

Or maybe not. As I said at the outset, it's interesting, but perplexing.

by PETER C. HAMMOND
Executive Director, National Coordinating Council on Drug Education

Marijuana and heroin use in the armed services is now the topic of Presidential news conferences and the focus of Congressional hearings.

Approximately 50 percent of the men entering the service have experimented with marijuana, 60 percent of the men in the service have experimented with marijuana, 20 percent regularly use marijuana, and at least 10 percent could be using heroin.

Congressional investigation reveals that this increased drug use (or increased awareness of drug use) is confined primarily to draftees in the 17-23 age group (77 percent of the men in Vietnam are 23 years old or younger). Little, if any, drug use takes place on the front line or in combat.

This pattern of drug use has raised some interesting challenges to the Defense Department which will have a significant effect on our national drug abuse policies and programs. The challenges include: amnesty programs, adequate treatment facilities (only 5 VA hospitals are currently treating addicts), re-examination and drastic modification of education efforts, screening of draftees, re-examination of alcohol use, adequately trained psychiatrists and counselors, and effective drug control programs.

One suggestion emerging from the concern about drug use in Vietnam is that drug addiction be our rationale for total troop withdrawal from Vietnam. This suggestion makes drug use a psychological trump card with serious social repercussions. Our concern for drug addicts on a social and economic basis is too quickly becoming an excuse for certain kinds of behavior which avoid dealing with the real problems of drug dependence and the social conditions which call our attention to drug use.

DURWARD KIRBY TO OPEN JULY 6 IN PLAZA SUITE

Durward Kirby, Gary Moore's longtime TV sidekick and host of Candid Camera, launches the 1971 Cherry County Playhouse season on Tuesday, July 6 in Neil Simon's Plaza Suite. Plaza Suite consists of three one act plays that all take place in the same suite of the Plaza Hotel. Mr. Kirby plays a middle-aged businessman, a suave Hollywood producer, and a harried father of the bride in the playlets of this comedy sensation that ran for three years on Broadway and has recently been turned into a successful film. The promotion department of New York's Plaza Hotel was kind enough to send producer Ruth Bailey a box of authentic "props" for use in this production.

Plaza Suite marks Durward Kirby's third appearance at the Cherry County Playhouse. The popular actor has previously been seen here in Generation and The Impossible Years. Playing the three leading female role opposite Mr. Kirby will be actress June Gibbons. The supporting cast is made up of Jensen Moore, Steve Scott, and George Brengel.

Plaza Suite with Durward Kirby plays at the Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City from July 6 thru 11 with performances weekdays at 8:30; Saturday at 6:00 and 9:30; and Sunday at 7:30. There is a matinee Thursday at 2:00. Call the Cherry County Playhouse box office at 947-9560 for information and reservations.

O Lord, help this Board of Commissioners to be great, For as you say, a man is as great as the truth he speaks, As great as the help he gives, As great as the destiny he seeks, As great as the life he lives. And, Lord, bring back Chuck Longworth to good health again. Amen.

He requested a yearly sustaining grant from the Board.

Mr. Joe Durga, Dog Warden, appeared before the Board. He spoke about the need for a tranquilizer gun. The City of Grayling will provide one-half the cost. The Board asked for more definite facts and figures to be presented at the July Session.

County Clerk was advised to write Mr. Shook and accept his resignation, and express appreciation for his service to the county.

Mr. Case, of the Water Council of Trout Unlimited, spoke to the Board about the proposed drainage of Otsego Lake. Board felt it necessary to give relief to Otsego Lake property owners regarding lake level but to control flow over a period of time. Matter was tabled pending legal council.

Mayor Derek E. McEvers and Bernard Fowler, Grayling Township Supervisor, met with the Board regarding Grayling Airport. Repairs and improvements at the airport, consisting of ramp, apron, roadway, necessary local funds of $15,000 on a matching basis with state funds. They emphasized that funding should be on county level in fairness to taxpayers of Grayling City and Grayling Township, due to the fact that the airport is vital to the life, growth and development of the county as a whole. Financially, the county has no alternative but to develop a County Airport Authority for this purpose. The right is reserved of redeeming bonds maturing in the years 1986 to 2001, inclusive, at the option of the district, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after May 1, 1985, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium as follows:

be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds thirty (30) days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the School District has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new high school building, and developing and improving the site.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from August 1, 1971 to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District. Each bidder shall state in his bid the interest cost in the manner above specified. No proposal for the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

The bonds of this issue may be registrable as to principal only on books kept by the paying agent.

The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 12, Part II, Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, and the School District is authorized and required by law to levy upon all taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay these bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

A certified or cashier's check in an amount of $59,200.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. Payment for said bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Attorneys, 2500 Detroit Bank and Trust Building, Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The School District shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be designated by the purchaser. Said bonds will be delivered within forty-five (45) days from the date of sale and if said bonds are not delivered by twelve o'clock, noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the forty-fifth day from the date of sale, the successful bidder may withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation in writing on the undersigned in which event the good faith check shall be promptly returned.

In the event that prior to delivery of the bonds the interest received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law, ruling, regulation or court decision, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase the bonds, and, in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

Inquiries with respect to the details of the bond issue may be addressed to First of Michigan Corporation, 218 North Washington, Post Office Box 283, Grand Haven, Michigan, 49417, Financial Consultant for the School District.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

More U.S. Citizens Participate In Government

By Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

A greater percentage of United States citizens participate in the country's decision making of government than when this country was first formed.

Many people may feel that they have lost some of their individual freedoms. This is probably true. As the population becomes more dense, each loses some freedoms for the mutual benefit of the majority. But the constitution has been changed and amended since it was first ratified in 1789 to give a greater sense of membership and participation to a greater number of the country's people.

Before the constitution was amended, only white, property owning males could vote or hold office.

The first amendment came two years after the constitution was ratified and is called the bill of rights. It was the first amendment which gave us the freedom of the press, of speech and freedom of religion. Other amendments came with greater difficulty.

It took nearly one hundred years after the constitution was ratified and a civil war before the negro became full citizens with the right to vote. Some states were successful in denying the black community these rights until the resurrection of the emancipation led by Martin Luther King in the decade of the 1960's.

Women won the right to have a greater sense of membership and participation when they gained the right to vote in 1920.

Susan Brownell Anthony championed the cause of woman suffrage. She was a crusader who cut her teeth with the woman's temperance league and sharpened her sword in the anti-slave movement. She spent a life time fighting for women's suffrage, but did not live to see the nineteenth amendment added to the constitution.

Labor has gained a greater voice in their destiny through organization and bargaining power. The Wagner act of 1935 was a liberalization of government restraint which permitted the laborer a greater sense of membership and participation.

The latest advancement has been the granting of the vote to the 18 year olds in national elections. One that is still seen only in the crystal ball is doing away with the seniority system in the legislature which prevents yours and my representative from exercising his vote in our behalf.

Abraham Lincoln said, "Those who deny freedom to others deserve it not for themselves."

Here's How I See It

By Lou Cramton

We are getting letters urging our opposition to Senate Bill 805. So far none of them give us a good reason.

This Bill would put a one year residency requirement for welfare recipients for a five year emergency period.

Now, to me, that doesn't seem like too bad an idea.

As it is now, welfare is one of the largest items in the state budget — and it is by all measurements the fastest growing. It is an open-ended, no-limit item that apparently defies any forecasting effort. Supplementary appropriations keep showing up on the Legislature's calendar to take care of spending in this area has exceeded the budget.

And just to feed the flames a little, we have received evidence that social agencies in Indiana and Illinois have been urging welfare applicants to go to Michigan where the benefits are more plentiful.

That seems like a good reason for Senator Zollar's bill. I can see no reason for the tax payer of Michigan to pick up the tab for people from other states.

I am sure none of us want to see any of our people hungry, without proper medicine and medical assistance and adequate housing. But the series of stories by Detroit News writers that have exposed extensive cheating and abuse of our present uncontrolled welfare programs do not sit well on those of us who must pay the bill.

It was not made any easier to hear the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee attempt to minimize the importance of such cheating and abuse to the State's (our) generosity on the Floor of the House: he estimated they were talking about "only a million dollars — practically nothing." Practically nothing! A million bucks is regarded as practically nothing by the Democrat chairman of the House committee that "controls" state spending. (Vitamin B sometimes helps reduce nausea.)
